- Once your itinerary is confirmed, please inform PGH about your estimated check-in date.

During your journey to Macao:

- Scan the QR code below (image 3), Download the "Macau Health Code Mobile App" and complete the registration process.
- Take preventive measures during the trip, wear a mask throughout the journey, keep your hands clean and avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth.

After entering Macao:

- Complete health quarantine, self-health management/self-health monitoring based on requirements and measures specified for places or countries concerned at the discretion of the health authorities. UM will not provide on-campus accommodation for self-health management/self-health monitoring, and accommodation (such as hotels) need to be arranged by yourself.
- Avoid traveling to high-risk areas or countries 10 days before your check-in date.

- Conduct a nucleic acid test and obtain a hardcopy/e-copy report with a negative nucleic acid test result (a certificate of negative nucleic acid test within 48 hours after the date of sampling must be presented on the day of check-in).

On the day of check-in:

- Present a negative nucleic acid test certificate (hardcopy) within 48 hours after the date of sampling. Students who fail to provide the above certificate will be refused at check-in.
- When checking-in, you need to wear a mask and measure your body temperature.
- Before entering the specified venues in PGH, all your luggage will be disinfected with disinfectant.
- Only students are allowed to enter PGH area.
- Accompanying family members will not be provided pick-up service and will not be issued PGH visitor pass, and there will be no family reception area within the PGH area.

After Check-in:

- Within 48 hours after check-in, students are required to undergo a nucleic acid test. Students may schedule the testing through the “Macau Health Code” mobile app (image 4). The result will be displayed on the Macau Health Code and students are required to submit a screenshot of the test results to the management company (for example, if you checkin on August 1, the test must be completed on or before August 3, and the result must be submitted to the management company on or before August 4); otherwise 5 PGH points will be deducted.
- During your stay, if your health code changes to red or yellow, please notify the management company immediately
